St. James's, June 22.

AN humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Magiſtrates, Common-Council, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Plymouth in the County of Devon, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Berkeley firſt Lord Commiſſioner of the Admiralty, &c.

An humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, and Juſtices of the Peace of the County of Salop, has been preſented to his Majeſty by Sir Robert Corbet, introduced by the Lord Newburgh, in the Abſence of the Earl of Bradford.

Which Addreſſes His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Conſtantinople, April 23, O. S. Here arrived lately four Perſons, who pretended to be Deputies from the chief Rebel in Perſia who ſacked Schamachia; and ſaid they were ſent by him to demand the Protection of the Port; but as they came without any Credential Letter, they were ſoon diſmiſt with ſome ſlight Preſents, and without any direct Anſwer to their Demand. This Port ſends every Year a Squadron of Ships into the Archipelago, to clear the Sea of the Malteſe or other Chriſtian Corſairs; and ten Men of War have been for ſome time fitting out for that purpoſe, but are ſtronger manned than uſual, and better provided with Arms and Ammunition. This Court has likewiſe ſent Orders to the Governments of Tripoli, Tunis, and Algier, to fit out as many of their Ships as they can to join them, and have appointed Janom Choggia (who is the ableſt Seaman they have) to command the Fleet. He is now at Tripoli, whence he is to remove to Scio, where the Fleet is to meet him, and the ten Men of War are already ſailed out of this Port. The Enterprize concerted is kept ſecret, but is conjectured to be againſt a little Iſland called Gozo near Malta, which is or may be made ſtrong, ſo as to ſerve to bridle the Malteſe Rovers, if it can be taken.

Vienna, June 13, N. S. Letters from Conſtantinople adviſe, that Expreſſes were come to the Ottoman Port from different Parts of Perſia, bringing Accounts that the Kingdom of Perſia has been attacked by two Armies of Rebels, one headed by Miriveis, and the other by Scheich Mahmud; the firſt having over-run all the Country from Candachar to Iſpahan, laid Siege to that Capital, took and plundered it, and alſo made himſelf Maſter of the Caſtle, the King of Perſia with only three or four Perſons, eſcaping with great Difficulty. Miriveis was aſſiſted by the Great Mogul, and has with him a numerous Army, the greateſt Part

Part of which are Volunteers, to whom he gives free Liberty to plunder all the Towns they take. The other Army under Scheich Mahmud has alſo made great Incurſions into Perſia, and conquered all the Country from Dagiſtan to the Province of Iran.

Hague, June 26. Letters from Moſcow dated the 22d of May relate, That the Great-Admiral Count Apraxin, the Privy-Counſellour M. Tolſtoy, Lieutenant General Baturlin, Prince Jurien Truberskoy Preſident of the College of Magiſtrates, and the Hoſpodar of Wallachia Demetrius Cantimir, were already ſet out from thence for Aſtracan; and that moſt of the Officers and Servants of the Court, were to ſet forwards that Day for Colomna, whither the Czar and his Conſort would be going by the 24th, thence to proceed to Aſtracan. The Princeſſes his Czariſh Majeſty's Daughters were with the reſt of the Court to ſet out in a few Days for Petersbourg, but are to return to Moſcow the Beginning of Winter. Prince Menzikoff was ordered to go (after the Czar's Departure) to Petersbourg, Wybourg, Revel, Riga, Smolensko, and other Places on the Frontiers, to view their Fortifications and Garriſons. The College of Commerce was likewiſe ordered to remove to Petersbourg, with ſome Deputies of each of the other Colleges; but the Senate was to remain at Moſcow, together with the Great Chancellour and Vice-Chancellour. The Duke of Holſtein was not to accompany the Czar in this Summer's Expedition. P. S. Letters from Moſcow of the 29th of May, ſay the Czar and the Czarina ſet out from thence the 24th, and were advanced to Colomna on their Way to Aſtracan.

Paris, June 27, N. S. The following Extract of the Advices relating to the Plague received by the Court to the 22d of June, has been communicated to the foreign Miniſters.

The Duke de Roquelaure in his Letters of the 5th, 8th and 12th of June, writes, that the 23d of May a Shepherd died in the Neighbourhood of Mende, without any viſible Marks of the Plague, yet the uſual Precautions were taken. The 1ſt of June at Salle-Gardon one died and one fell ſick, both of the Plague. At Alais none had died or fallen ſick ſince the 17th of May: There remained but two Perſons in the Infirmary there, who were recovering. The Diſtemper ſeemed to be entirely extinguiſhed within the two Lines, yet a careful Watch was ſtill continued. M. de Bernage in his of the 12th of June writes, that no new Accident had happened in all the Places of the Gevaudan which had been infected, nor in thoſe of the Dioceſes of Alais, Uſez, and Viviers. Permiſſion was about to be given to the Inhabitants of Alais, to go out of their Houſes with certain Precautions. The Duke de Roquelaure had appointed a general Quarantain to begin there the 1ſt of July.

The Comtat, and the Principality of Orange. M. d'Ocray writes the 7th of June, that he had an Account from Orange the 27th of May, that there were three or four ſick in the Town and ſix or ſeven in the Country. M. de Belrieu in his of the 7th and 12th of June adviſes, that Avignon was ſtill in a bad Condition, through the ill Order obſerved there; That Orange was much better, by the good Order kept in it. Commiſſary Ruelle writes the 13th of June, that on the 6th none died nor were any newly taken ſick at Orange. Letters from Avignon of the 8th give an Account, that 10 or 12 Perſons a Day fell ſick ſtill there, and that thoſe who were taken with malignant Fevers died ſooner than thoſe who had the Plague. Letters from Marſeilles of the ſame Date, tell us there was hardly any Appearance of the Plague remaining there, and that they hoped to be ſoon perfectly freed from it.

Provence. M. de Grand Maiſon who commands in Fort St. John at Marſeilles, in his Letter of the 8th of June writes, that the Plague is ſtill there, but rather decreaſes than increaſes. M. le Bret writes the 8th, that three Perſons were dead in the Infirmaries of Marſeilles: And 60 remained ſick there.

there. The Physicians write from thence, that those newly taken ill were less violently attacked than the former. The 9th a Child died in the Territory of Marseilles, but without any certain Marks of the Plague.
